Gov. Bradley Gets Sick.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 17.—Gov. Bradley is still quite sick this morning. His friends and physicians still insist that the Executive is only suffering with a bilious attack, and he will be all right in a few days, but there are others who believe he is a very sick man, and that it will be an indefinite period before he is back in his office.

Equalization Board.

Judge Breathitt has appointed the County Equalization Board for the year assessment. The members are B. F. Johnson, F. M. Brown, F. G. Barnett, Isaac Garrett, R. J. Carothers, J. W. Pritchett and Peter Postell, Jr., colored. The board is an excellent one, representing all parts of the county and all classes of property holders. It will meet the first Monday in January.

Will Not On The Major.

While candidate Frauks and several others are being tipped for the collectorship of this district, yet the Hustler is willing to bet just a little that Maj. S. R. Crumback, of Hopkinsville, will be the man. He is the original McKinley man of the district, has been in close touch with the President-elect for several years and at one time he held the place that several men want. Maj. Crumback wants the place and we suppose it will go to him.—Hustler.

Somewhat Without Warning.

Daniel Wright, an old colored man 80 years of age, dropped dead of heart disease, Wednesday afternoon, while wheeling kindling in a wheelbarrow on Main street. He was coming from J. W. Boyd's, on Seventh street, to his home on Fifth street in the rear of the Old Bank building. Near the crossing on Main and Fifth he suddenly fell and expired instantly. Coroner Allenworth was summoned and held inquest. The verdict was heart disease.

Wants Damages for an Arm.

Eugene Carr, a Clarksville negro who was beating his way from Belleville, Ill., about a week ago, had his arm crushed by an L. & N. freight train in this city and amputation was necessary. Carr was riding on the "truck road" under a car and a brakeman who detected him as the train was approaching the tank ordered him off. In getting off the negro fell under the wheels and his shoulder and arm were crushed. He was taken in the caboose to Pembroke and Dr. R. D. Moore amputated the arm at the shoulder. Carr is not recovering and threatens to bring a damage suit against the railroad company. The operation of Dr. Moore was a fine piece of work and did great credit to his skill and learning as a surgeon.

An Epidemic of Vagrants.

Hopkinsville is just now a Mecca for the hordes of vagrants who are walking the highways of Christian county. The unusually large number of idle men in the city, who do not belong here, is a serious menace to the welfare of the people of Hopkinsville. Many footers who were brought here by the Republicans for campaign purposes are still hanging around here and their number is being increased daily by swarms of country negroes who are coming to town to spend the winter. There has been a disposition to pass the Council in the past few weeks to take care of the vagrants to take care of the city, but the public expense very often of charity takes on a certain aspect. The five Democratic men and council and the Demo of Hopkinsville to the tax payers public charge to see that the line of duty is not made to include run out of town who ought to be of these idle men. There are scores of prospects of hope or ready well support work in a city all kinds and kinds of laborers that they are they can show work the vagrants live without once be enforced. They should at be made thus early suggestion we trust the authorities to see and slow to act. Idle men will not be and there is no reason why crime should be encouraged. Idleness harbored at public expense.

JUDGE LANDES.

A Frankfort Paper Pays Him a High Compliment.

One of the subjects of sincere regret to the people of Kentucky, is the fact that this sterling, upright and honest jurist was not elected to fill out the rest of the term of Judge Grace. When that eminent man was called to the other world so suddenly last spring Gov. Bradley honored himself and the State by appointing Judge Landes to hold the position until the time at which the law required an election to be held. He has filled the position to the very highest requirement of law and justice, has made a record of which any man might be proud. He has stood manfully to his position and has rendered opinions that are models for clearness, precision and justice. Many hoped that he would continue upon the bench, while they view the majority against him politically, was very large. But he went down in defeat, with his flag flying and unstained by any act beneath the dignity of an upright judge.

The good people of this city especially regret his defeat, as they had earned to know and honor him as a pure jurist and an earnest Christian gentleman.—Roundabout.

From Pee Dee.

Pee Dee, Nov. 18.—The protracted meeting at Little River church continues with increasing interest. Large crowds attend every service and fine sermons are being preached by Rev. E. C. Berryman who is assisting the pastor, Rev. A. W. Meacham.

Mr. W. A. Sowell, of Trigg county, and Miss Katie Smith, daughter of Mr. Archie Smith, were married at the Cumberland Presbyterian church in Bennettsville yesterday evening at 3 o'clock by Rev. Crump, the pastor. They were given a reception at the groom's home and are now on a bridal tour in the Purchase, visiting relatives.

Another wedding will take place at Little River church on the 25th inst. at 3 p. m. Mr. Jas. M. Miles, son of Mr. A. W. Miles, and Miss Mattie Carlow, youngest daughter of Mr. Jas. Carlow, will be united in wedlock by Rev. A. W. Meacham. A reception will follow at the residence of the groom's father near Bennettsville.

The matrimonial ball will be kept rolling by still another wedding next month in the Howell neighborhood, the principals being Miss Ida Dixon and Mr. George Buchanan.

"And still there are more to follow."
E. W. PETTUS.

Democratic Caucus Selects Gen. Pettus for Senate.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 16.—The Legislature held a caucus to-night on the Senatorial question. But two names were before them and the first result to Gen. E. W. Pettus, of Selma, 67; Gov. W. C. Oates, 26. Gen. Pettus, the successful candidate, was born in this state in 1821, went into the army as a private in the Twentieth Alabama and was promoted to Colonel. He was captured at Vicksburg, but was soon exchanged and appointed Brigadier General. Both Alabama Senators will be from the same town—Selma.

A Sixteen to One Camp Attacked.

Paducah, Ky., Nov. 17.—Last night near Calvert City, Marshall county, a band of armed citizens attacked a slave camp in which there were sixteen colored men and ran them away. Four of the negroes were shot, but none were seriously hurt. The negroes all lived in this city and came here, a distance of fifteen miles, on foot. Negro labor has not been allowed in that section of Marshall county for the past three years, and the gang attacked last night had been warned to leave. The negroes were employed by the Standard Oil Company to get out slave timber.

Dixon Monday Night.

Of Lecturer Thos. Dixon, who will be at the Tabernacle Monday night next, the Atlanta Constitution says: "It is almost impossible to reproduce Mr. Dixon in print. His manner as well as his subject, has been so unique and so brilliant and sparkling. It was full of anecdotes imitatively told, and excited continual bursts of laughter and applause. The audience left the opera house enthusiastic and delighted." Seats on sale at Elgin's, at 35 cts.

Gold Mine Under Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., Nov. 17.—An artesian well now being bored in Cairo at a depth of 750 feet is passing through quartz that a careful assay by experts shows rich with both gold and silver. A well which probably has sunk in immediately in the place of the well, by Col. Halliday, the owner.

Gen. Eli H. Murray, of San Diego, Cal., formerly Governor of Utah, died at Bowling Green Wednesday. He came to Kentucky three weeks ago to die in his native state. He was 57 years old.

CLEVELAND IN JAIL.

AN INSURANCE MAN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE.

A Resident Agent of the Penn Mutual Accepted on a Charge of Embezzlement.

George Cleveland, who has been for several years located here as agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., is in serious trouble with his company. In fact Mr. Cleveland is in jail in default of a heavy bond and is awaiting trial on the charge of embezzlement. The warrant for his arrest was issued by County Judge Breathitt and he was brought to the city Tuesday night by detective Charles Ridley, who arrested him in New Orleans. The charges of embezzlement are somewhat general as yet. It is a little hard to get at the particulars in advance of the trial.

The first intimation that there was anything wrong was a legal notice inserted in about a month ago stating that Mr. Cleveland was no longer an agent of the Penn Mutual. He had been absent from the city for some time and his friends did not know what had become of him.

About a week ago rumors of his trouble reached the city and there were reports of his arrest and incarceration as above.

Mr. Cleveland is about forty years of age and unmarried. He is a man of good appearance and had the reputation of being an excellent insurance man. His company was a good one and he did a large business for it, traveling a good deal in the country.

He came here a stranger about three years ago and but little is known of his antecedents.

Mr. Cleveland's defense will be that his business connection was not with the insurance company, but with J. W. Fredell, the Kentucky agent, as an agent. The punishment for embezzling the funds of a corporation is from one to ten years in the penitentiary. When the funds are those of an individual the offense is "breach of trust" and not covered by the statute.

We understand that Mr. Cleveland says he does not know exactly how his accounts stand with the company or Mr. Fredell, but that he is ready for a settlement.

If it comes out that he is short he is ready to make it good. He vigorously denies that he is guilty of embezzlement.

The insurance people are not liable to lose anything, as Mr. Cleveland was required to give bond, his bondsman being an Indiana Guaranty Company.

An Exciting Runaway.

Wednesday evening a team belonging to the Crescent Milling Company became frightened and ran off. The driver came down Seventh street at a "two forty gait," and just as they crossed Main street they collided with a loaded wagon belonging to Mr. Jas. J. Underwood. The driver did not get off the horses and when the corner of Webster street was reached they ran against another team and wagon. This time they fell and rolled over and ran to their feet they were seized and gotten under control. Mr. Underwood was pretty badly hurt and his wagon was wrecked. No other damage was done.

Damage by the Hessian Fly.

The report comes from South Christian that the pest known as the Hessian fly has made its appearance on several farms and much damage has already been done to the wheat crop. In some places the September seedling has been almost entirely destroyed and fears are entertained that the whole crop will suffer.

Mrs. Brasher Dead.

Crofton, Nov. 18.—Mrs. M. C. Brasher died here Tuesday night of cancer of the stomach, aged 57 years. She had been a member of the Christian church since she was fourteen years old and her funeral was preached by Elder T. D. Moore, of Hopkinsville, Wednesday, the interment taking place in the Campbell burying ground, six miles north of this place.

New Road to be Established.

A new public road will shortly be opened from a point on the Clarksville pike, near Mr. J. J. Vancleave's to the Palmyra road, near Mr. M. Adams. Messrs. R. F. Rives, J. F. Garnett and W. S. Moore are the champions of the proposed road.

Death at Trenton.

Trenton, Nov. 17.—Mr. Frank Hunter, a highly respected citizen of this place, died last night of stomach trouble, after a long illness. Deceased was about 50 years old and leaves a wife and two children.

Capt John C. Dabney, of Cadiz, was in the city yesterday on business.

TOM UNDERWOOD WEDS.

The Bright Young Pearl Shover Wins a Wife.

Mr. Thomas C. Underwood and Miss Fannie Rust stole a march on their friends Wednesday by driving over to Clarksville in a buggy and getting married.

They have been sweethearts for some time and their marriage was not unexpected, but the surprise was in its suddenness. The secret was well kept and none but their most intimate friends knew of the wedding until it was over. Mr. Underwood and Miss Rust left for Clarksville in a vehicle about 1 o'clock. They were accompanied by Mr. E. B. Anderson and Miss Willie Rust. The trip was made in a few hours and when they reached Clarksville the bride's brother, Rev. John O. Rust, who is holding a meeting in that city, performed the ceremony that made them one. They returned home the same evening and will live with the bride's mother on South Main street.

Tom Underwood is the city editor of the New Era and is a young man of unusual brightness and decided journalistic talent. His bride is the second daughter of Mrs. M. G. Rust and is a really lovely, intelligent, lovable character and amiability make her a general favorite in social circles. She is accomplished, vivacious and popular with a wide circle of friends and admirers. The KENTUCKIAN congratulates the groom on his good fortune and wishes for them both a happy future.

SHOT IN THE LEG.

Nick Green Wins Andrew Burbridge Near Pembroke.

A shooting affray occurred on Mr. Ben Bradshaw's place between Pembroke and Longview Sunday night. A negro named Andrew Burbridge was shot twice by Nick Green, another negro, in a row the origin of which is not known. Burbridge was hit once in the leg and once in the hip with pistol balls. His wounds are not serious, being only deep lacerations. Green skipped and is still at large. He is believed to have gone either to Clarksville or Evansville. Burbridge is speaking from state to friends and the report that his wounds were fatal, was an exaggerated one not based on facts.

"A Wild Goose Chase."

The above musical comedy holds the boards at the Opera House Monday night.

Hopkinsville theatergoers like good singing and dancing and in "A Wild Goose Chase" there are plenty of opportunities for such specialty work, none of which are lost. The comedy is sparkling from start to finish and in plot is unusually clever.

There are just the variety of characters in it to catch an audience and especially when they are as faithfully portrayed as last night.

The female impersonator, Chas. Hasty, as Willow O'Brien, makes a great hit and deserves a rank among the very best.

Minister "Quinine Jim."

Hon. James A. McKenzie has arrived in this city from Oak Grove, this county. He left Trenton October 27, and came by way of New York. He is thin from an attack of fever, followed by fifty days. He is in poor health, but he is here on a leave of absence and will remain until January. His doctors advised him to come home and recuperate. Mr. McKenzie has parted with his flowing chin whiskers.

One thing that has brought him home at this time is the approaching marriage of his daughter, Miss Katie, to Mr. Lamar Monarch, of Owensboro, next month.

Three Counties Questioned.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—The Democrats intend making a fight before the state returning board to have the counties of Fayette, Bourbon and Woodford, which were carried by McKinley, by majorities aggregating 1692, thrown out on account of free turnpike roads being levied on each. In Fayette there was also a school election, making three elections on the same day. This they claim is in plain violation of the law, and renders the election invalid in the counties in which the election was held.

Hogan Settle.

Miss Mattie Settle, daughter of Dr. H. C. Settle, and Mr. Russell Hogan, of Trenton, were members of a party of young people who went to Nashville yesterday to see "Robin Hood" last night.

News was received about noon that Miss Settle had become Mrs. Hogan, the ceremony taking place in the Maxwell House parlors. The Bishop R. K. Hargrove officiating. They will return to Trenton to-day. Mr. Hogan is a prominent farmer of Todd county and has been one of Hopkinsville's prettiest and most charming belles.

GEN. GRANT IN WARTIME

A Chicago Girl Who Carried Romanticism
in the Campaign.

Personal Appearance of the Commander of the Army.

Comfortable Presentments of Him Were Widely Circulated First—His Clear and Musical Voice and Unmistakable Gait.

Writing of that period of Gen. Grant's career when he had become commander of the union forces Gen. Horace Porter says in the Century magazine: A description of Gen. Grant's personal appearance at this important period of his career may not be out of place here, particularly as up to that time the public had received such erroneous impressions of him. There were then few correct portraits of him in circulation. Some of the earliest pictures purporting to be photographs of him had been manufactured when he was at the distant front, never appearing in one place long enough to be "fouled." Nothing daunted, the practices of that art which is the chief source of the vain, had photographed a burly beef contractor, and against the pictures broadcast as representing the determined, but rather robust, features of the coming hero, and it was some time before the real photographs which followed were believed to be genuine.

False impressions of him were derived, too, from the fact that he had come forth from a country leather store, and was famous chiefly for striking sledge-hammer blows in the field, and conducting relentless pursuits of his foes through the swamps of the southwest. He was pictured in the popular mind as striding about in the most approved avast-buckler style of modern drama. Many of us were not a little surprised to find in him a man of slim figure, slightly stooped, five feet eight inches in height, weighing only 135 pounds, and of a more quiet and gentle manner than seemed to fit him more for the court than for the camp. His eyes were dark grey, and were the most expressive of his features. Like nearly all men who speak little, he was a good listener; but his face gave little indication of his thoughts, and it was the expression of

GEN. GRANT IN 1862.

his eyes which furnished about the only response to the speaker who conversed with him. When he was asked for anything amusing, there was always a perceptible twinkle in his eyes before he began to speak, and he often laughed heartily at a witty remark or a humorous incident.

His mouth, like Washington's, was of the letter-box shape, the contour of the lips forming a nearly horizontal line.
This feature was of a pattern in striking contrast with that of Napoleon, who had a bow mouth, which looked as if it had been modeled after a front view of his cocked hat. The firmness with which the general's square-shaped lips were set when his features were in repose was highly expressive of his force of character and the strength of his will power. His hair and beard were of a chestnut-brown color. The beard was worn full, no part of the face being shaved, but like the hair, was always kept closely and neatly trimmed. Like Cromwell, Lincoln and several other great men in history, he had a wart on his cheek. His nose was small, and located on the right side just above the line of the beard.
His face was not perfectly symmetrical, the left eye being a little lower than the right. His brow was high, broad and rather square, and was creased with several horizontal wrinkles, which helped to emphasize the serious and somewhat careworn look which was never absent from his countenance.

This expression, however, was in no wise an indication of the nature which was always buoyant, cheerful and hopeful. His voice was exceedingly musical, and one of the clearest in sound and most distinct in utterance that I have ever heard. It had a singular power of penetration, and sentences spoken by him in an ordinary tone in camp could be heard a distance which was surprising.

His gait in walking might have been called decidedly unilitary. He never carried his body erect, and having no ear for music or rhythm, he never kept step to the airs played by the bands, no matter how vigorously the bass drums emphasized the accent. When walking in company there was no attempt to keep step with others. In conversing he usually employed only two gestures: one was the stroking of his chin with his left hand; the other was the raising and lowering of his right hand and resting it at intervals upon his knee or a table, the hand being held with the fingers close together and the knuckles bent, so that the back of the hand and fingers formed a right angle.
When not pressed by any matter of importance he was often slow in his movements, but when roused to activity he was quick in every motion, and worked with marvelous rapidity. He was civil to all who came in contact with him, and never attempted to such anyone, or treat anybody with less consideration on account of his inferiority in rank. With him there was none of the puppyism so often bred by power, and none of the dogmatism which Samuel Johnson characterized as puppyism grown to maturity.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN.

A Chicago Girl Who Carried Romanticism
in the Campaign.

"Just like a woman," he said.
His wife looked at him rather surprisedly for a minute before venturing to make any inquiry, says the Chicago Post.

"I suppose," she said at last, "that you have got hold of the case of a woman who married a man she didn't like just to get a title."

"Not at all," he replied. "I've been reading of the case of a romantic young girl."

"I thought when there was no need to,
I suppose," interrupted his wife. "Well, girls will be girls, and girls that are girls like a bit of romance to spice their love affairs."

"That is not it," he protested.
"She was romantic in another way."

SENT FLOWERS TO HIM EVERY DAY.

She admired physical prowess and courage, and all that, and always asserted that she would never marry a man who could not fight; said she wanted some one who could protect her, you know.

"Quite natural," asserted his wife.
"A manly man always appeals to a girl. She wants some one who will seem to her to be a hero."

"That's the idea they usually try to convey," he responded, "and this girl got just that kind of a fellow. He was athletic, you see, and it looked like a sure-thing coupling, until one day he got into a fight with a rival who had made some slighting reference to her."

"And he got thrashed?"

"Not a bit of it. He knew how she longed for a hero, so he went in to make himself one, feeling doubly satisfied that he was fighting for her account."

"Yes? And what then?" She asked interestedly.

"He thrashed the other fellow so badly that he was laid up for a week."

"Well?"

"Well, that so roused her sympathy that she sent flowers to the rival every day and married him as soon as he was able to stand up at the altar. That's the future that strikes me as being
just like a woman."

WHISPERING GALLERY.

One of the wonders of the National Capitol at Washington.

It is strange that one of the most interesting peculiarities of our national capitol is not set down in guide-books or enlarged upon by enterprising reporters. If you come to Washington, you visit stately hall—only to see its famous clock—and one in stately hall you are reminded of its acoustical eccentricities. Gaping groups of country folk stand around, harkening with amusement to voices which seem to proceed from hidden presences. You listen to your own lightest whisper, says the Illustrated American, or even to your breathing, repeated distinctly

THE WHISPERING GALLERY.

from a great distance. As you walk around the rotunda the echo of your footfall precedes you. You are asked to step into a stately hall, and your disappears across the room. Where?
upon a voice, which seems to issue from a marble fathur of your country near the hall, addresses you loudly from your guide behind the statue of "Empering, and it is his whispering and ing which you hear. Whispering, and and your voice will reach him and volume from the shelter of his high authority whose effigy crowns you.
Your guide suggests you and a companion stand on the right side, facing each other, and at a distance of 30 feet he addresses you; and so he has a companion, who does not him speak. Again, standing just behind you, that direction, you hear your voice addressed distinctly. The voice addresses you distinctly. The guides are very accurate, and ready to go to speak. The buildings of the rotunda do not purpose tecture. The whispering gallery, according to its design, is designed, and is found to be impracticable, proceedings were too queer and ir-able for continuance.

way in Kentucky.

A Sound Liver Makes a Well Man.

Are you bilious, constipated or troubled with jaundice, sick headache, bad taste in mouth, foul breath, coated tongue, dyspepsia, indigestion, hot dry skin, pain in back and between the shoulders, chills and fever, etc. If you have any of these symptoms, your liver is out of order, and your blood is slowly being poisoned, because your blood does not get properly purified. Herbine will cure any disorder of the liver, stomach or bowels. It has no equal as a liver medicine. Price 75 cents. Free trial bottle at R. C. Hardwick's drug store.

The chronic grumbler sees no prospects of prosperity.

DISEASES OF THE SKIN.

The intense itching and smarting incident to eczema, tetter, salt-rheum, and other diseases of the skin is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Eczema and Skin Ointment. Many very bad cases have been permanently cured by it. It is equally efficient for itching piles and a favorite remedy for sore nipples, chapped hands, children's feet, and chronic sore eyes.
For sale by druggists at 25 cents per box.

Try Dr. Cady's Condiloid Powders, they are just what a horse needs when in bad condition. Tonic, blood purifier and vermifuge.
Sold by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

Insist on more faithful than respond.

No Harming.

Foley's Honey and Tar does not claim to perform miracles. It does not claim to cure all cases of consumption, but it does claim to give comfort and relief in advanced stages of these diseases and to usually cure early stages. It is certainly worth trying in all cases of cough or phlegm from these diseases. For sale by C. K. Wyly.

When a man is right he is seldom

Six weeks ago I suffered with a very severe cold, was almost unable to speak. My friends all advised me to consult a physician. Noticing Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised in the St. Paul Volks Zeitung I bought a bottle and after taking it a short while was entirely well.
I now most heartily recommend this remedy to anyone suffering with a cough or cold. For sale by R. C. Har-

Catarrh to the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarrh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarrh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Thousands testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge, pain or gripe. All druggists.

JA SNAK Thief Scared Off.

Mrs. Mollie Summers, who boards at W. S. Boles' boarding house near the post-office, was awakened Tuesday morning before day by a man in her room. The intruder gained access by climbing on to the porch by means of a ladder and entering the room through a window. Mrs. Summers' screams aroused her sister, Miss Lena Lacy, in an adjoining room, and Mr. Boles' family on the lower floor. Mr. Boles with a pistol in hand rushed up stairs just as the would-be burglar escaped from the window and was disappearing in the moonlight.

Mr. Boles opened fire on him and shot five times without effect. The burglar left his shoes, hat and coat. No arrest has yet been made. The supposition is that the intruder was a white man.
